

Leukoderma

Leukoderma is a disorder of melanin pigmentation. It is a focal loss of pigment , where the pale spots (unlike vitiligo) do not have a sharp border . It is an acquired disease - pigmented structures are destroyed after persistent skin inflammation . We observe burns, syphilis or psoriasis.

Leukoderma

Links

Related articles

- Vitiligo
- Albinism
- Pigment

References

- BEDNÁŘ, Blahoslav and Pavel MĚJEVSKÝ. General Pathology. 1st edition. Prague: Karolinum, 1994. ISBN 8070669500 .